

Frequently Asked Question Hyperlink Example

Can I include hyperlinks within the Objective Response boxes as I prepare my narrative response (for a self-study, interim report, progress report, or response to a report of findings)?

The short answer is yes. However, it will not appear as you are accustomed to seeing an active hyperlink. You cannot include an 'embedded' hyperlink as in the example immediately following. The portal will not allow for the hyperlink to be active.

Embedded hyperlink example in your Word document:

Any new faculty and staff must attend a college orientation upon hiring and complete all necessary modules. There is a complete listing of all required items clearly identified on the HR website, you can find those by clicking here.

Example Word Document

This link will not be active if you copy/paste into Objective Response box.

Embedded hyperlink example once entered into AMS:

Hyperlink is no longer active

Supporting Documents: Document must be in PDF Format only

In order to include an active hyperlink in your narrative response, you must include the entire hyperlink in the actual narrative.

Actual hyperlink example in your Word document:

The Public Responsibility Policies can be located at:
<http://www.jrcert.org/resources/governance/public-responsibility-policies/>

Actual hyperlink example once entered into AMS:

Supporting Documents: Document must be in PDF Format only

The hyperlink doesn't look active but it will function once the report has been submitted.

Once you have pressed for your applicable report, you will receive an email with a pdf Summary attached. Any hyperlinks you entered in a particular Objective Response box will be functional; although still not look like a typical URL with blue underlined font.
