

The radiation therapy program at Erie Community College was made aware of our program status and given the option to appeal or apply for re accreditation. With full support of the college, the program has chosen to re-apply for accreditation.

The programs failure to comply with Objective 5.2 was reflective of historical data not indicative of program changes evident in our current 3 year average pass rate of 84% and most recent class of 2017 pass rate at 92%. Significant changes have transpired within the program including securing qualified FT faculty and the college's significant investment into various technologies including our Virtual Environment for Radiation Therapy (VERT) system to further enhance the didactic teaching of the program and positive impact on student outcomes.
